

Cutthorpe Bards

It is not proposed that poetry corner becomes a regular feature but with the Festival relatively fresh in our minds and the need to find new helpers we thought you might enjoy the following by Pete Stott (well known for his odes to village life and more) and Bernard Sinclair, who has for the first time in his life has been moved to put pen to paper in this way!

The Bunting Boys

by Pete Stott

...with acknowledgements to Tom Springfield and to The New Seekers (can be sung to the tune of 'The Carnival is Over')

How you wave, you Cutthorpe people,
When you're driving into town,
While we struggle with our ladder
As we take the bunting down.

Although it's nice to see you,
Smartly dressed and looking grand,
We should like you even better
If you stopped to lend a hand.

Dear friends, our hearts are aching,
Arms and legs are feeling queer,
This year's Festival is over....

Will you lend a hand next year?

This year's Festival is over....

Will you lend a hand next year?

HELP - rewritten by Bernard Sinclair

...Acknowledgements to The Beatles (add the chorus in where you can).

Help! We need some bodies

Help! Not just any bodies

Help! You know we need some more

Help!

When we were younger, so much younger than today

We never needed anybody's help in any way

But now these days are gone, it's making us quite tired

To build marquees, well-dressing frames, and much much more beside.

Help us if you can, we're feeling down

And we would appreciate you being 'round

Give the festival a head of steam

Won't you please, please help the team?

It doesn't take much time to put up our marquee
A few more men and women sure could do it easily.
Thursday eve, an hour or two, is not a lot to share
To start our Cutthorpe Festival - Get up from your armchair!

Assembling our well-dressing frame is always quite a chore

Heavy panels, nuts and bolts, and always that much more.

To get it all lined up and straight, make all the pieces fit
Is quite a task, so don't just ask, come round and do your bit.

Once the frame is standing straight, there's still more to be done,

Loads and loads of sticky clay must now be plastered on,
A messy job, so do be sure to wear your oldest gear,
You'll need to change and shower before going for a beer.

Creative ladies take the stage, they work from dawn 'til dark

They turn a clay wall into art, with petals, leaves and bark.

Intense discussion fills the air as colours are applied
Until at last, it is complete, no brown clay can be spied.

First signs of your Festival are not that hard to see
Notices appear from Four Lanes End to Tinsel Tree,
Bunting flies from every point, from Riggotts Way to Square

Those Bunting Boys have struck again with colours everywhere

Finally the day arrives, and all the work is done
Children's rides, magician too, the dog show - all such fun.

Many people come to see the village at its best,
Friendly, happy, full of life, Malcolm in his vest.

Now the sun begins to set, the shadows growing long,
Dancing in the marquee to the music and the song.
Open mic is at its best, the beer is flowing freely
You couldn't finish off a weekend any better, really.

It's all packed up and put away, another great event.
Wonder how it came together? Well, to large extent
It happened because folk like you all gave a helping hand

So come on, folks, step forward now and join this happy band.

Won't you please please help us, help us, help us, oooh?

Three Merry Lads

Once again things move on, we've bid farewell to Ray and Nicola and are very happy to welcome Christine and Martin who, with only 3 weeks notice, have taken over the running of the pub. Longer term residents will remember them from when they previously very successfully ran the pub, about 20 years ago.

It's early days as they only moved in on the 3rd September but they are serving home cooked food from 12.00-8.30 pm, with the 'family friendly' menu priced at £4.95. They have plans for live music on Friday nights and will be running a quiz, when they get organised.

The pub has been a bit quiet recently so we are looking forward to Christine and Martin breathing new life into it.

Village Festival

Feedback on this years festival has been that it was a good weekend and enjoyed by all, both village residents and others from further afield. Despite 'competition' from the World Cup football and Wimbledon tennis over the same weekend attendance was once again good which of course was helped by the excellent weather. Many thanks to the organising committee who put in a lot of time and effort to make sure it ran smoothly over the weekend and to those volunteers who helped with setting up the field, car parking, marshalling etc.

Next year's festival will be over Friday 12th and Saturday 13th July and if anyone should wish to join the organising group please eMail ken.lawrie@btinternet.com, new faces and new ideas are most welcome. Also, If anyone knows of any potential stalls for next year please put them in touch with wendy.lawrie@btinternet.com

Cutthorpe Institute

Changes are afoot for the Cutthorpe Institute. When the Institute is finally purchased by the Parish Council it will be managed by a new charity and its name will change to the Cutthorpe Village Hall.

The trustees will remain the same but a new secretary will be needed, as I am resigning as a trustee and secretary currently being in the process of moving to live in Lincolnshire.

My move will also create a vacancy for a secretary of the Working Committee. This worthwhile committee help each other to make the Institute available for the many groups and individuals who enjoy its facilities. The lettings generate enough income for us to employ a cleaner in addition to paying for minor repairs.

If you would like to help by becoming a key holder or in any other capacity please contact me or Barbara Stringer.

Phone Box

I hope everyone who uses the phone box library has noticed we have refurbished it. A good scrub and a lick of paint will hopefully mean that it will be continued in use for many years to come. Many thanks to Peter, Becky and Wendy for giving their time to sort it out and also to Stefan who made some lovely new planters to finish it off.

Gardening tips for September

- Plant spring flowering bulbs
- Divide herbaceous perennials
- Collect and sow seeds from hardy annuals and perennials
- Pick crops such as potatoes and raspberries
